

Geo Cashe #4 – Welland

In play: April 27th – May 21st

Group play is encouraged

Final destination is a local establishment open Monday – Saturday 8am-6pm

Starting site: E. C. Brown Memorial Conservation Area – 480 River Rd, Fenwick L3B 5N6

Instructions:

- Leaving the parking - lot don't fly away like an Eagle but head that direction.
- Pass "baby" E. C Brown park
- Enjoy the view of the river....for a brief time.
- NOTE – Watch for Bald Eagles. Many have been spotted in this area. Please note that neither Sean nor Vicki guarantee you will see any Bald Eagles. No refunds on this tour if eagles are not present at time of adventure.
- On the right you will see an interesting mailbox. A mini crane arm.
- Still on the navigator's side, don't wonder over the land, continue on your journey.
- Fore! Watch for carts crossing the road.
- At the stop sign, don't get mixed-up in directions like north and SOUTH roads, make the RIGHT decision.
- Watch for a house with castle like features, you are going the way.
- Over a bridge we go!
- Make a left turn into a sub-division Gaiser Rd.
- If you are on the right course, on driver's side will be green space but called a body of moving water.
- Then on your right, there will be a second park.
- At stop sign, you want to turn onto a street. You might be traveling north when you turn but the name of this road is not north.
- Don't get caught in a WEB, continue through the lights.
- If you are doing WELL without any obstacles that SPRING up, you will be on the RIGHT path.
- Carry on through the lights.
- You will come to a set of lights
- "Legend of SLEEPY HOLLOW" a literary short story by Washington Irving is scary but a sign will tell you your path is still correct if you are looking right.
- Pass a greenhouse on your right...many spring blossoms draws wild drivers.

- Before your next turn Balsam St is on the left, your turn will be quickly after but do NOT go left. HINT: Large grey house with a balcony so high many with a fear of heights would avoid.
- Don't stop to play with Michael or Clare...just keep driving.
- You will want to make a left turn, a turn that could take you to higher learning but that clue isn't very helpful so here is another: where the two lanes of traffic splits you will turn at the lights
- Please obey the laws, we don't want anyone to be handcuffed and dragged RIGHT to jail...drive on by
- A sign will welcome you to the area
- On your right will be a giant weeping willow – WAIT which weeping willow you may ask. The one that makes you want to grab a book or a drink and take a GIANT seat by the lake. You will know when you spot this clue...but don't get too worried because you will keep going straight.
- This winter has been long and cold, making many of us wish we were under a PALM TREE soaking in the sunshine. On your right a large pink sign will draw your attention! Follow this desire and enter the parking lot.
- This is your destination.
- Park and head over to this pink sign for under the sign will be your geo cache.
- HINT: under the palms among the rocks is your reward.
- Check out this local hidden gem! The exterior hides an oasis.
